Cube Reaction Race black´n´flashyellow 2019

We built the Reaction Race with one thing in mind: speed. Well, okay, maybe three things: speed, comfort and versatility. Stealth dropper post compatibility means you can upgrade without spoiling the Reaction Race's clean lines, for example. With a buttery smooth RockShox Judy fork featuring black stanchions, powerful hydraulic disc brakes and Sram's wide-ranging 1x12 Eagle GX transmission, the Reaction Race is all set to take on whatever you care to throw its way. It's a bike that feels as good out on the trail as it does on the race course or city streets... and we reckon that's a winning formula.

The Reaction Race represents the state of the art in aluminium hardtail frame construction. Light, strong efficient - that's the way we roll. It features double butted, mechanically formed aluminium tubes for efficient power transfer and accurate steering, backed up by the PressFit bottom bracket and tapered head tube with integrated sealed bearings. It boasts internal cable routing, so your gear shifts stay cleaner for longer, even in filthy trail conditions - and there's provision for a Stealth dropper post, too. And, with our Agile Ride Geometry, you can be sure of the inspirationally stable-but-lively ride quality for which all our bikes are justifiably famed.
