Cube Stereo 140 HPC Race 27.5 grey´n´white 2019

The CUBE Stereo 140 Race 27.5 will redefine your expectations of an all mountain machine. Light, nimble and versatile almost beyond your imagination, its carbon frame and 150mm fork is capable of taking you to places you never thought possible. We selected Fox's 34 Rhythm fork and Float DPS Evol shock for front and rear air springs that are easy to set up, easy to adjust and with a performance that'll have you coming back for more, ride after ride. The 2x11 Shimano XT transmission with Race Face chainset means you easily switch to a 1x11 setup if that's your preference, while strong Answer Atac wheels with a wide 30mm rim are anchored by strong, reliable XT hydraulic discs. We even remembered to fit a dropper post, so you can ride even the steepest of chutes with confidence. The only thing that's missing is a rider. Will you step up?

CUBE's engineers love a challenge. So when we told them they had to make the Stereo 140 sleek, light, durable and confidence-inspiring on even the most challenging of trails, they set to it with a vengeance. The result is one of our design team's most stunning-looking frames - a blend of carbon main frame and aluminium rear triangle that's so elegant, you won't believe it offers 140mm of rear wheel travel. Hidden frame pivots, internal cable routing, a shorter rocker and trunnion mount shock all contribute to the clean looks. But we've not forgotten function, either. The Boost 148 rear end, combined with a massive down tube and tapered head tube, makes for a super-efficient, super-accurate chassis that goes where you point it, every single time. Short chainstays and a low standover are part and parcel of the agile handling, and the geometry is designed to handle both a 150mm fork and extended periods of climbing with ease. Agile all-rounder? You bet.
