Cube Reaction Hybrid EAGLE 500 grey´n´green 2019

No trail is too long, no mountain too high for the Reaction Hybrid Eagle. Whether it's a ride with the family or a flat-out blast on your favourite trail with your riding buddies, this is a Bosch e-bike that will re-ignite your passion for mountain biking. Combining human power and Sram's extraordinary 1x12 Eagle transmission with the powerful, torquey Bosch CX motor - delivered to the rear wheel via our super-sleek aluminium superlite frame with Intube battery - results in a ride experience that you have to experience for yourself. Size Split means you're assured of the perfect fit, whatever your body shape and size. The RockShox Judy Silver air fork works seamlessly with Schwalbe's 2.6 inch Nobby Nic tyres to deliver tenacious grip, accurate steering and surprising comfort, no matter what challenges lie ahead. And Magura MT Thirty hydraulic disc brakes give you the stopping power you need to stop safely, whatever the weather conditions, thanks to its 4 piston caliper at the front. Where will your riding take you?

Nothing on a CUBE frame is there without a reason. Dig beneath the Reaction Hybrid Eagle's clean lines, for example, and you'll find all kinds of practical details. Hiding in the elegant down tube is the Bosch PowerTube battery, protected from the elements and ideally positioned to keep the centre of gravity low, but easily accessible for charging. The Bosch CX drive unit is similarly positioned in the ideal place, connected to chainstays designed specifically to allow ample clearance for 2.6 inch tyres and running back to a 12mm Boost thru-axle. Internal cable routing doesn't just complement the bike's clean looks; it also reduces the need for gear cable maintenance - and it even allows for a quick and straightforward dropper post upgrade. There's room for up to two bottle cage mounts, and of course our refined Agile Ride Geometry ensures that the Reaction Hybrid Eagle will become an extension of you on the trail, for the ultimate ride experience.
