Cube Access Hybrid Race 500 black´n´mint 2019

The Access Hybrid Race will make you feel as though you have superpowers. Well, almost. The lightweight, nimble aluminium frame and powerful, smooth Bosch CX drive unit work seamlessly together to make a Bosch e-bike capable of taking on almost any journey. Whatever the conditions under your tyres, however far you need to go, no matter how steep the terrain, you'll be ready to take it all on. Our design team carefully selected components to tailor the fit for women, like shorter stems and saddles designed for the female anatomy. We chose Shimano's SLX and XT 11 speed gears for their wide range, ease of use and exceptional reliability. Powerful hydraulic disc brakes put all the stopping power you need at your fingertips, however wet the conditions. The RockShox Judy Silver air suspension fork is easy to adjust and helps smooth out the lumps and bumps of tough trails. And a powerful 500Wh battery gives you the power you need to ride further and longer, so you can keep coming back for more.

There's more to building a great Bosch e-MTB than finding space for the motor and battery. No-one understands that better than the CUBE engineering team, which is why you'll find almost obsessive attention to detail lurking beneath the Access Hybrid Race's clean, elegant lines. Agile Ride Geometry is designed to give the perfect blend of stability and agility, so you'll feel comfortable from the start of your ride right through to the end. Internally routed cables keep your gears shifting flawlessly with no maintenance worries, and you can recharge the battery without removing it from the frame. There's even the option of an easy upgrade to a dropper seatpost. Oh, and the one piece, gravity cast down tube doesn't just look great - it's also the technically advanced, super-rigid backbone that's the heart and soul of the Access Hybrid Race's exceptional handling and precise steering. Because it's not just about looks, either...
